More than 150 cyclists will pump 203 miles in the Seventh Annual LotoJa Classic Saturday, September 16.

The race, which begins in Logan and takes riders to Jackson, Wyo., is the longest one-day event in the United States. Between the two ends of the course, cyclists will buzz Preston and Soda Springs, Idaho before climbing through Tincup Pass and Freedom, Wyo.

Each year the event draws a larger cross-section of American cyclists. Last year's winner was Bob Fourney of Denver, Colo. Fourney finished in a record time of 8:42.21.

Others to watch in the race include Hawaii triathlete Richard Roberts, Sunrise Cyclery Owner — and former LotoJa Race Director — Jeff Keller, Licensed IV rider Mike Baugham and Citizen peddlars Art Heers, Ron Nelson and Tom Dyson.

Technical data including temperatures, barometric pressure, and altitude will be recorded during this year's jaunt across three states by a Campbell Scientific Data logger. The information will provide a more accurate description of the course for future LotoJas.

Logan Mayor Newell Daines will officially start the cyclists in front of Sunrise Cyclery at 6:45 a.m. Saturday.

Riders in the annual LotoJa cycling race are just getting started as they travel between Richmond and Smithfield.

The Seventh Annual LotoJa bike classic got underway Saturday morning in Logan and ended in Jackson, Wyo. after a new race record was set.

Salt Lake's Mike Dalen peddled through the 203-mile course in eight-hours, 10-minutes.

The times represent an average speed of about 25 miles per hour, which, an official said, 'is extremely impressive for a course that climbs so much.'

---

Mike Baughman of Logan, flew in on Dalen's draft with a time of 8:12 to take second.

The times represent an average cycling speed of about 25 miles per hour, which, an official said, "is extremely impressive for a course that climbs so much."

The entire Licensed pack ran an average speed of 29 mph.

LotoJa is short for Logan to Jackson and the race is known throughout the country as the longest one-day event in the nation.

Taking riders through steep mountain terrain as well as valley lowlands, the event crosses the borders of three states including Utah, Wyo. and Idaho.
